Description and how to apply

We invite applications for probationary tenancy to those interested in joining Great James Street Chambers with a view to full membership.

Applicants should be able to demonstrate a high standard of achievement in areas of law similar or complementary to those in which existing members practice. We are particularly interested in applicants with existing or developing practices in the following areas: crime, extradition, immigration and family law.

Members of Great James Street Chambers benefit from a simple, commission based rent system at 16.5% deducted at source upon receipt of payment of fees. There are no monthly fixed costs.

Great James Street Chambers operates as a virtual set with the clerks working remotely. We have a central London hub located opposite the Old Bailey. Work is predominantly London based and all pupils and tenants are fully supported in the development of individual practices with a focus on wellbeing at the Bar and a flexible, friendly working environment.

We invite interested applicants to make contact via our Senior Clerk zoe.mccauley@greatjames.co.uk in the first instance. All enquires will be treated in the strictest of confidence and in compliance with the Bar Council's equality and diversity rules.
